QUIET IN HAVANA AS TROOPS LAND

No Trouble is Apprehended by
The Department.

Taft and Bacon Surprise Cubans With Affability, Energy and Tact
on Mission.

NO DEMONSTRATION IS MADE.

Havana, Oct. 1.—The city is quiet today, not the slightest disturbance following the landing of the American troops. About 20,000 men from the American war ships in the harbor began coming ashore early today. It will not be long until the entire number is in camp Columbia. No parade of landed forces was held, the men being dispatched at once to their headquarters. An additional force of 500 marines arrived today on the battleship Kentucky, and will be landed before the day is over. The 450 marines and blue jackets who had been already landed here were sent to Cienfuegos.

Commissioners Are Busy.

Havana, Oct. 1.—The headquarters of the American commissioners was transferred from the battleship which brought them to Cuba to a house in Marinoo soon after their arrival.

Both Secretaries Taft and Bacon rise at 7 o'clock, and by 8 have finished breakfast, which in this country is a very light repast of rolls and coffee.

Nothing connected with the visit of these two distinguished gentlemen has impressed the Cubans so deeply as the civility with which they get to business and the devotion with which they continue at work hour after hour.

Their frank cordiality to all classes of visitors has been another agreeable surprise to the Cubans. They have been so accustomed to partisanship on the part of public men that Secretary Taft's friendly attitude to all persons who can aid him in his task, his candid desire to gather information from every source, strikes them as a remarkable novelty. The entire absence of formality at the Finca de Hidalgo is in agreeable contrast with the tedious etiquette in President Palma's official home.

The visitors are ushered into his presence and dismissed with the greatest economy of physical energy. Important, indeed, must be the individual whom the portly secretary honors with his escort beyond the door. There is an automobile always in attendance. After dinner the secretary sometimes takes an outing along the "Calzado," but most of his evenings are spent in the elaboration of data collected during the day. It is not expected in Havana that Secretary Taft will make any announcement of the conclusions to which he comes before his return to Washington. It is felt that the gravity of the situation is such that he will wish to confer personally with the president before publishing his recommendations. There does not seem to be any reason to doubt that the information which he has obtained so far shows that the present rebellion can be satisfactorily arranged. The government is practically obliged to do whatever may be desired by the United States.

Cuba's Annexation Foreshadowed.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Secretary Taft's proclamation declaring himself military governor of Cuba is regarded here as foreshadowing with almost certainty the formal annexation of the island within the next six months. High military and naval authorities express this view with remarkable unanimity. It was strongly intimated in one responsible quarter today that President Roosevelt had come to the conclusion that annexation was the only satisfactory solution of the situation and that his plans were being laid with such a contingency in mind. It is expected that he will urge upon congress the desirability of such a step, probably not in a formal message, but in his talks with leading members of the senate and the house.

If the sentiment among Republican and Democratic members who have come to Washington in the last few weeks represents that held throughout the country, it is difficult to imagine any other outcome of the Cuban imbroglio than annexation. It is learned, however, that in all likelihood there will be no hasty action by Mr. Roosevelt. For the next few days it is thought he will play a waiting game. This means that he will simply watch the effect of Secretary Taft's proclamation throughout the provinces. That there will be no serious trouble encountered in Havana is not doubted, but as much cannot be said for the outlying districts. The province from which news is most eagerly awaited is that of Santiago, always the hotbed of rebellion and turbulence. If there is to be fighting Santiago is expected to hoist the banner, but the fact that no bad advice has come from there inclines the officials here to take a rather hopeful view of matters.

Palma Is Penniless.
Washington, Oct. 1.—Palma is penniless. The president of the first republic of Cuba retires to private life without a dollar. This statement was made by Senor Quesada, the Cuban minister, who cabled Palma an invitation to come to United States to live at the former's home.

Engineers to Embark.
Washington, Oct. 1.—Four companies of engineers left Washington barracks for New York today, where they will embark for Cuba this evening on the transport Sumner.

PRESENTED TO RETIRING YARDMASTER STONEBREAKER.

J. Sullivan Succeeds Him and Kelley Charlton Becomes His Assistant.

Mr. J. Sullivan, assistant general yardmaster for the Illinois Central, took charge of the yards this morning in the capacity of general yardmaster. He succeeds Mr. G. W. Stonebreaker whose resignation took effect today. Mr. Kelley Charlton, the well known engine foreman, was made his assistant, a deserved promotion. Mr. William Mortland, another popular yard employee, was given Charlton's engine.

Yesterday the retiring yardmaster was presented with fine meerschaum pipe by attaches of the yards and yard office. He is one of the most popular yardmasters ever in charge here.

Mr. Stonebreaker left today for Cedar Rapids, Ia., to take charge of the Rock Island yards there.

IN HOMESPUN

OUR OLLIE WAS CLAD AT BENTON THIS MORNING.

Left His English Clothes and Accent at Home and Talked Crops With Farmers.

Clad in homespun the antithesis of that phonographic vest and its setting of English tweed, which the tall congressman from London this summer, and finding his "It's" with accustomed readiness, Ollie James addressed the dark tobacco growers of Marshall county at Benton this morning. It was county court day and the association took advantage of the occasion to hold a rally. Ollie James and Gen. N. B. Hays took advantage of the rally to get the ears of the populace. General Hays spoke this afternoon.

DUMONT OUT.
America's Representative Hurts His Arm.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Santos Dumont, representing America in the balloon race for the Gordon Bennett cup, which started from here yesterday, was compelled to drop out of the contest owing to severe injury to his arm. Dumont caught his arm in the cordage of the balloon.

Musical Drill.
The musical drill will be practiced this evening. Every participant should be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock.

BACK TO COUNCIL GOES FRANCHISE

Mayor Yeiser May Not Approve 19th St. Extension.

Board of Councilmen Expected to Pass Measure Over Veto of Mayor Tonight

WILL TELL ABOUT MEETING.

Without the mayor's signature, it is probable the franchise ordinance for the Worten's addition line of the Paducah Traction company will be returned to the board of councilmen tonight. Mayor Yeiser has not yet signed it and, it is understood, he will not. The board probably will pass the measure over the mayor's veto.

This ordinance provides for an extension of the line out Broadway to Nineteenth street, thence over Nineteenth street to the Mayfield road. It affords street railway facilities to a section now without them.

Mayor Yeiser also will tell the board about the trip to Chicago.

"My visit was a busy one," said the mayor, "and, really, I did not see as much of the city as I would like to. I was studying municipal problems and improvements the whole time and believe I have learned something."

Councilman John Williamson says that if the Sunday labor law is to be made effective generally, he thinks it should be made to apply as rigidly to city departmental work as to any business; furthermore, that he intends at tonight's meeting of the board of councilmen to bring the matter up. Councilman Williamson's speeches are short and to the point and he says he will speak his mind. "Just look at that," he invited when he met a news reporter at Fifth street and Broadway. He pointed south on Fifth street.

"What I am pointing to is that city dump cart," he explained, "and I am going to see if the Sunday labor law can not be made to apply to the city as well as to business. I have spoken to the mayor once about the matter privately and see the unsightly, filthy carts are out again. This time I shall speak publicly. I think that city laborers should be made to lay off the same as others."

Died With Jackies.

Barnstable, Mass., Oct. 1.—With one detachment of American marines landed in Cuba and a force of several thousand marines and sailors preparing to follow to uphold the authority of the United States over the troublesome island, President Roosevelt today went out of his way and paid the enlisted men of the service an honor which has no precedent in history. The president, in making a visit to the North Atlantic fleet off Cape Cod, insisted in sitting down to dinner on the battleship Missouri with the Jackies and marines, partaking of the simple fare of the forecastle.

A Mean Disposition.
Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—For no known cause except an ungovernable temper, Edward Weaver this morning fired three shots into the body of his wife as she awaited breakfast in a restaurant, killing her instantly. He was arrested later.

Six Cross Channel.

London, Oct. 1.—Six of the sixteen balloons, which left Paris yesterday in the international race for the Gordon Bennett cup, have crossed the English Channel. All are moving rapidly toward the northeast.

Ray Barker.
Ray Barker, 17 months old, son of W. A. Barker, of 1118 South Eighth street, died this morning of summer complaint. The body was taken to Elva, Marshall county.

Twelve Cows.
The monthly report of L. Rice, the cow policeman, shows there were 12 cows and four mules taken up during the month of September.

Rosa Johnson, colored, of 618 Clark street, swore out a warrant this afternoon against Will McKinley, colored, charging him with entering her house in her absence and taking goods away. She telephoned Detective Will Baker at noon and he left to investigate, finding the negro in the house.

Railroad Commissioner Mac D. Ferguson, of La Center, is in the city today.

CZAR TO ABDICATE THRONE OF RUSSIA IS RUMOR IN PARIS.

Paris, Oct. 1.—The czar is to abdicate. A regency is to be formed to govern Russia. This is the latest sensational report from St. Petersburg. All Paris is discussing it with interest. It is said Nicholas' health has broken down under the strain to which he has been subjected.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS THE CONVENTION

Asks Citizens to Decorate City With Horse Show Colors.

All Preparations Are Now Completed and Railroad Men Have Been Invited.

IMMIGRATION HAS THE FLOOR

Plans for the immigration convention are practically carried out and now the weather man is looked to for comfort. The promoters have done all they can. They have secured the personal promises of nearly 1,000 delegates to attend and more than that number are expected.

All of southwestern Kentucky and southern Illinois will be represented in the meeting Thursday and Friday. Governor Beckham, Senator McCreary, Commissioner of Agriculture Vreeland and the board, representatives of the Louisville Commercial club and F. M. Sargent, commissioner of immigration, are coming.

The last invitations to be sent out were sent today to railroad officials. They were President Thomas and officers of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis; Vice President Harahan, of the Illinois Central; President A. H. Davidson, of the Frisco, with B. Schulte, industrial commissioner, of the same line; L. Willard, second vice president of the Burlington, and E. C. Calvert, its chief engineer.

Mayor Yeiser has issued a proclamation requesting all business men and citizens to decorate their stores, offices and houses in honor of the immigration convention and the horse show.

CALLED TO BOSTON.

Manager Bleecker, of Traction Company, May Leave City.

Mr. John S. Bleecker, manager of the Paducah Traction company, owned by the Stone & Webster company, of Boston Mass., was Saturday suddenly called to Boston presumably for a conference with the heads of the company. Mr. Bleecker did not know why he was called. It is thought he may be transferred to Pensacola, Fla., where the company owns a big street car system which was damaged a great deal in the recent gulf storm. Mr. Bleecker's friends here hope the trip will not result in his transfer from Paducah.

POLICY KING

Commits Suicide in Apartments in New York.

New York, Oct. 1.—Al Adams, former policy king, committed suicide in his apartments today. Adams is accredited the richest gambler in the country. He recently completed a sentence in Sing Sing, being sent there from New York.

REGISTER NEXT TUESDAY.

Registration day is next Tuesday, October 2, on that day all voters desiring to participate in the coming municipal election must register. The registration will be held in each precinct at the regular voting place between the hours of 6 a. m. and 9 p. m. It is the duty of every voter to secure a certificate. No citizen can excuse himself, if the election goes contrary to his opinion, if he does not perform this act of citizenship. There will be a full Republican ticket in the field in Paducah this fall, which will appeal to the better element of both parties and will win, if every voter qualifies by registering next Tuesday in his precinct.

STORM'S DAMAGE NOT OVERSTATED

Shipping And Every Other Industry Suffer.

Loss of Life Reaches Hundreds and Business Almost Prostrated Along Gulf.

SOME RECORDS OF THE BLOW

Mobile, Ala., via Meridian, Miss., Oct. 1.—The number of casualties in the great storm of last Wednesday is slowly increasing, as messages are received from places which have heretofore been inaccessible. The total last night of the known dead was seventy-five. This number was brought up to a certainty of seventy-nine and a possibility of 102 by the reports which reached Mobile during the night, and early today.

Captain Wilson, of the Banan reported that the beacons in the bay and all of the range lights have been carried away and declared that the lighthouse on Sand Island has been destroyed, only the tower remaining. There was no light burning, he said, on the approached entrance into the harbor. Captain Hansen of the Belize, saw the light somewhat earlier, and it must, therefore, have been destroyed on Wednesday evening.

The government tender Ivy went down the bay early today around the entrance into the harbor and to make a careful examination of possible changes made by the storm in the channels between the entrance to the harbor and the city.

The situation along the coast to the west of this city is now fairly well known. At Scranton, Miss., one church, the Odd Fellows' hall and several buildings were blown down.

At Pascagoula beach not a residence is standing, the river front at that point is completely torn up, and the light house there has been destroyed. Shipping at this point, however, has not been badly damaged. The revenue cutter Winona for which much fear was entertained, is now known to be safe. The crew of the cutter rescued the keeper of the Pascagoula lighthouse and his family during the storm.

The keeper of the Horn Island light house, just outside of Scranton, lost his life. The captain of a tug which came near the house at the commencement of the storm urged him to leave but he refused to abandon his post, and in a short time was drowned. The entire end of the island on which the lighthouse was situated is said to have been carried away.

At Biloxi the damage has been of a minor character to buildings. At Pass Christian no lives were lost and the damage was slight.

The wrecking of a few houses comprised the damage at Gulfport, and no lives were lost there.

Five out of eight vessels at Ship Island at the time of the storm were beached, and two will be total wrecks.

Several vessels, the names of which are unknown, are ashore off Horn Island, and the small islands marking the passage between Dauphin island and the mainland have been destroyed. The beacon lights on this part of the coast are not greatly damaged.

It is now believed that the loss to the lumber interests alone by the storm will aggregate $10,000,000.

At Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 1.—It is difficult to give any adequate idea of the magnitude of the storm devastation here. The entire water front is a mass of tangled wreckage. The costly bridge of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, spanning Escambia bay, was demolished, and it will be many days before trains can go eastward. Officials of the road believe the foundation is intact and the work of rebuilding will be begun as soon as possible. Train service north has been restored.

Out of fifteen fishing schooners of E. E. Saunders & Co.'s fleet only one is afloat. Warren & Co.'s fleet suffered equally as bad, one only being undamaged. The others are on the beach and some of them broken up. The tugs Monarch and Mary Lee are high and dry in Pine street.

Among the ocean-going craft hard aground are the Norwegian ship Ingrid, Norwegian bark Heimdal, Norwegian ship Avanti, Portuguese ship Ferroira, schooner Donna Christina, Swedish bark Alfhild, Norwegian bark Hereford, German bark Maria, Unsettled with rain tonight and probably Tuesday. Cooler in central portion tonight. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 68 and the lowest today was 60.

Swedish bark Neach VI, Italian bark Olivari, Norwegian bark Superb.

The fishing smacks Lottie Haskins and Carrie E. Chase and the lighter Iris crashed into the bay shore home of Laz Jacoby, wrecking it, and the crew of the Chase were rescued from the front gallery of the residence.

ZONE WELL GOVERNED.

Governor Magoon Returns Today From Panama.

New York, Oct. 1.—Gov. Magoon, of the Panama canal zone, arrived on the steamer Panama from Colon this morning. Magoon said he will not return to the isthmus, but declined to confirm the report that he is en route to the Philippines. He said work on the canal is progressing as well as could be expected. He said he could safely say the zone is as well governed as any locality in this country.

Brick and Sewer Plant Burns.

Zanesville, O., Oct. 1.—The South Zanesville brick and sewer pipe plant burned this morning. The loss was $30,000.

NAVAL RECRUITS

WILL BE SOLICITED FROM OFFICE IN PADUCAH.

Master-at-Arms With Seamen Will Open Headquarters in the Custom House.

Chief Master at Arms, P. B. Golden, of the United States navy, has arrived in the city and is making preparations for opening a recruiting station here this month. The recruiting office will be in the postoffice and will remain open the week of October 15-20. It will be in charge of Lieut. J. H. Comfort and Dr. C. K. Wynn. Four regular sailors also will be in the office. This party is known as the naval recruiting party, No. 4. Chief Master Golden will go down to Cairo this week to arrange for a sub-recruiting office, the office in this city being headquarters. The prospects of active service in Cuba has quickened the whole army and navy and may be expected to stimulate the applications for enlistments.

THROUGH TREE

AERONAUT WAS CARRIED BUT HE HUNG ON.

He Cut Loose Above the Clouds and Came Down Four Miles Away From Park.

"Dare Devil Dennis" made another balloon ascension yesterday afternoon at Wallace park and besides the usual excitement, attending an ascension, furnished more than was bargained for. When Dennis tried to put the cap on the fire box to prevent the balloon from catching fire and ran under the big air bag the wind caught it and it veered. Dennis was dragged through the branches of a walnut tree and was bruised and scratched by the twigs and sharp branches, but hung on.

The balloon disappeared in the clouds and when Dennis cut loose the earth was hidden from view. He went a mile in the air and came down four miles from the park.

THREE NEGROES KILLED.

Mill Operatives Shoot Them From Moving Train.

West Point, Ga., Oct. 1.—Three negroes were killed and another probably fatally wounded by a party of mill operatives last night, who fired on the negroes from a moving train. The whites had trouble with a negro earlier in the day. When they saw him talking with others, they fired on the party.

HON. E. W. BAGBY ENTERS THE RACE

He and President McBroom Out for City Judge.

General Hays, Anti-Administration Candidate, Will Speak Here Tonight.

REGISTRATION DAY TOMORROW.

In spite of the other attractions this week, it marks the advent of the political season and politics is interesting Paducahans just now.

In addition to the fact that tomorrow is registration day the Republican city convention takes place one week from Thursday, and a contest is promised for the first place. President George McBroom, of the board of councilmen is already out for city judge, and this morning Hon. E. W. Bagby announces his candidacy for the place. Both are good men and both entered the race at the importunities of friends after mature consideration. Whoever wins the nomination, it will be a case of the office seeking the man.

Hon. E. W. Bagby, lawyer and president of the Carnegie library board, who made such a hard race against R. T. Lightfoot for the office of county judge in the last election, will not forsake the ranks of the Republicans to run on the independent ticket for police judge at the next regular elections. This statement was made by the well known attorney this morning, and while he did not state definitely that he will run, intimating his intentions of becoming a candidate.

Hon. E. W. Bagby made such a strong fight, especially in the city where he ran ahead of Judge Lightfoot, that he was urged to run for police judge. He was urged not only by his Republican friends but by many Democrats, who asked him to come out independently.

General Hays will speak at the court house.

General Hays Here.
Attorney General Hays, anti-administration candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, will speak here tonight. The first announcement came this morning by long distance telephone. The notice is so short that his friends are bestirring themselves to get up a crowd.

SEWER WORK

WILL BE STARTED IN DISTRICT NO. 2.

City Engineer Washington Says Our Paved Streets Are the Equal of Chicago's.

Work on the sewer in district No. 2, from Ninth street west to Thirtieth street, will commence this week, or not later than next week unless the weather turns unfavorable again. The work would have been started by this time had not the rains prevented.

The trench will be started at Thirtieth street. The Thomas Bridges Sons' company has been active in preparations, and no trouble in securing laborers is anticipated. Much of the street work is stopped and many laborers, who didn't work during the summer, are now anxious to get jobs before the cold weather sets in.

City Engineer L. A. Washington returned Saturday from Chicago, where he attended the League of Municipalities, and is getting his work in hand again.

His criticism of the league is that it is too large and is attempting to cover too much ground. He favors the organization of departments in the league for the discussion of the various problems confronting municipalities. The American society of Municipal Improvements which meets in Birmingham, October 3 to 13, Mr. Washington believes would benefit him more, as it is a society of engineers.

"I inspected Chicago streets, while I was there," he said. "And I saw no brick streets the equal of our own. I watched the construction of different kinds of streets and the methods are no better than ours."

Dr. J. W. Pendley went to Madisonville this morning on business.

UNDER THE BRIDGE IN THREE MINUTES

Buttortf Would Have Been Saturday Night.

Clarksville Bridge Raised for Steamer When L. & N. Passenger Plunged Over.

ALL HANDS STILL NERVOUS

If the steamer Buttortf had been three minutes earlier going under the bridge on the Cumberland river at Clarksville Saturday night, the train, which plunged through that bridge would have precipitated itself through that boat. In such an event the loss of life would have been far greater.

It was because of the Buttortf that the bridge was open and that the train plunged through to the Cumberland river which is forty feet deep at that point. The boat had whistled for the bridge to open and was within a few hundred feet of the bridge when an L. & N. passenger train rounded the curve, approaching the bridge, and dashed into the yawning opening. The engine and two cars went through, the mail and baggage cars, with a crew of seven men. Two were killed.

It was dark when the accident occurred. The channel was so deep that the Buttortf had no trouble passing under the bridge and the cars floated on down the river. They have not been fished out yet. The train was running according to schedule time and the blame for the catastrophe has not been placed. The Buttortf arrived here Sunday evening and Capt. Tyler and the other officers, passengers and men are still whistling at their narrow escape.

MRS. CASEY—WINDOW WASHER Appeals to Courts and Wins Victory Over Company.

Mrs. Casey did not stop to argue. She wanted her dollar right now. She went across the street to the court of the justice of the peace. The case came up promptly, for it was not a busy time.

"Now, when did you clean the windows?" asked the justice, when the case was called.

"Twice a week," said the woman. "The justice looked at her sternly. 'How can you be so sure of the date of a trifling event that occurred so long ago?'" Success.

Blatherskite. "Blatherskite" is an Americanism, or, rather, an old word which has survived chiefly in American usage. The way it came to be popular here is curious. It is really the old Scottish "blatherskite," from "blither," to talk nonsense (old Norse "blithr" nonsense), and "skite," a term of opprobrium. In the song, "Maggie Lauder," written about 1650, occur the words, "Jog on your gait, ye blatherskite," and this song was a very popular one in the American camp during the war of independence. Hence the vogue of the expressive word in its Americanized form. "Blitherskite" was the Irish version early in the nineteenth century.

The first meerschaum pipe was made by Karol Howater in 1723. This pipe is still in the Pesth Museum.

Theatrical Notes

Horse Show—October 3 to 6.

Golden-Voiced Al. H. Wilson. "Metz in the Alps," the romantic comedy drama of picturesque Switzerland in which Al. H. Wilson, he of the golden voice, will appear at The Kentucky tonight while interesting and pleasing to all classes of theatergoers appeals with exceptional force to those who claim the fatherland as the place of their nativity. "Metz in the Alps" is a tribute to the worth and dignity of German character, and holds up the mirror to nature in such a way as to reflect only the brightest side of life in which truth and honesty predominate. The play tells in forceful language a romantic love story, enlivened by bright comedy. Incidental to "Metz in the Alps," Mr. Wilson is heard in several choice selections of ballads descriptive, yodels and character songs. Stage settings of a most lavish nature, as well as other embellishments, both mechanical and electrical, will be made use of; a cast that will aid in its proper rendition has been selected, many of its members being old and tried favorites with the votaries of our play-house.

The County Chairman.

The score of pretty little school girls who take part in the rally scene in George Ade's notable comedy drama, "The County Chairman," which Maclyn Arbuckle offers at the Kentucky theater tomorrow night, were selected from over 200 applicants. Their great charm is their naturalness. This quality dominates "The County Chairman" throughout. Every character is absolutely true to nature.

A Fatal Day for Royalty.

It is generally known that Saturday has been a fatal day for royalty in our own country for over a hundred years; coincidences, perhaps, but nevertheless true. Here are a few examples:

William III. died on Saturday, March 18, 1702.
Queen Anne died on Saturday, August 1, 1714.
George I. died on Saturday, June 10, 1727.
George II. died on Saturday, October 25, 1760.
George III. died on Saturday, January 29, 1820.
George IV. died on Saturday, June 26, 1830.
The Duchess of Kent died on Saturday, March 16, 1861.
The Prince Consort died on Saturday, December 14, 1861.
Princess Alice died on Saturday, December 14, 1878, says Home Notes.
While Saturday seems fatal to the Guelphs, Thursday was equally fatal to the Tudor dynasty, as Henry VIII, Edward VI and the Queens Mary and Elizabeth all died on this day of the week.

A Unique Officeholder.

Charles E. Hunter, chief clerk in the district court of Oklahoma City, has established an astounding record. He declares his intention to resign his position, and gives as his chief reason the fact that the fees of his office are exorbitant. A month ago he gave emphasis to his views on this matter by writing to the department of justice, suggesting that court clerks in the territory be put on a stipulated salary of $3,500 a year. In ninety days the clerk fees in Hunter's district amounted to more than $6,000, which is at the rate of about $25,000 a year. Hunter insists that this is little short of wholesale robbery of litigants and that the evil should be corrected. He was a Rough Rider sergeant in the Spanish-American war, and owes his present position to President Roosevelt, who admires him.

The Retort Direct.

A United States sailor, who had served through the civil war, and, despite years of drill, was bent in the shoulders and rounded in the back, was passing along Church street in Liverpool one day when his ship was lying in the Mersey. Along came two smart young Tommy Atkins—straight as ramrods and gorgeous in new uniforms—who thought to have some fun with the old Yankee man-of-warman.

"Jack aboy!" cried the youngest and smartest of the two. "What are you carrying on your back?"
Back came the answer, quick as a shot:
"Bunker Hill."
And the Tommies pursued their way with chastened spirits.—September Lippencott's.

Typographical Error.

"Typographical errors," said William Dean Howells, the famous novelist, "are always amusing. When I was a boy in my father's printing office, in Martin's Ferry, I once made a good typographical error. My father had written:
"The showers last week, though copious, were not sufficient for the millmen."
"I set it up 'milkmen.'"—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

With a rise of 2.5 in the last 48 hours, the river is at a stage of 13.1 this morning. The rise was steady all day Sunday and Sunday night keeping the wharfmaster constantly busy shifting the gangplank up the wharf. There was little rainfall in the last 24 hours. The rainfall for the whole month of September was 4.76 inches, the larger part of which fell in the last five days.

The lowest stage of the river last month was 6.5, and the highest was 11.9. In September last year, the highest was 15.3, but the river this year maintained a higher average throughout the month. The highest stage in 1904 was 3.9; in 1903, 6.5; in 1902, 5. These figures are given to show the marked change in the stage of the river in the last two years. The high stage last month when it usually has been low probably was due to the heavy rains preceding the month in June, July and August.

Capt. James Koger has gone to Memphis to superintend repairs on the Savannah. On the down trip to Memphis from St. Louis, the Savannah broke the cylinder timbers and the wheel shaft. The breakdown occurred near Memphis and the boat will be repaired there. The Savannah had expected to enter the Vicksburg-Memphis cotton trade.

The Dick Fowler had a good trip to Cairo this morning at 8 o'clock. The Buttortf arrived from Nashville Sunday evening and left today at noon for Clarksville.

The Henry Harley arrived Sunday from Evansville and left this morning for the same point at 11 o'clock. The Harley and the Dunbar will try to make schedule time this week.

The Sallito arrived from St. Louis Sunday and left immediately for the Tennessee river.

The Russell Lord arrived out of the Tennessee river Sunday and will leave today for St. Louis.

The towboat Bernice arrived from Evansville Sunday and left this morning for the Cumberland river after ties. Capt. Douglas Jones is in command.

The Scotia was let off the dry docks today and the Gate City was taken out.

The Clyde will arrive out of the Tennessee river tonight and wait over till Wednesday evening before the return trip.

Mozart's Fiddle.

Musical circles in Salzburg, Mozart's birthplace, are much excited over the discovery of the famous musician's concert violin. It was always supposed that the instrument had been sold in England, but it has now been discovered in the possession of a country schoolmaster, Franz Josef Lenk, at Schoerfling, Upper Austria.

There appears to be no doubt as to the genuineness of the violin. From letters and other documentary evidence it appears that Mozart's sister, Maria Sonnenberg, received it from her brother. She sold it to a government official named Tressel, whose daughter was a talented musician. She died however and her father sold the violin and other musical effects to Adalbert Lenk, the father of the present owner. This was in 1829. The instrument is not made after the pattern of the celebrated Steiner violin, but like the Amati violin. On the inside is inscribed "Jakobus Steiner in Absam prope Venipentum, 1659."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Mosquito Screens in England.

"I have yet to see," writes Consul Halstead, from Birmingham "a house in England equipped with window and door screens, such as make life endurable in the United States in the summer months. There are, however, a very few mosquito bars, made of cotton netting, such as were so common in America a quarter of a century or so ago, and were later displaced by wire screens."

It is 10 p. m. They are seated in the parlor.
"No," she says, bowing her head.
"Pa says I am too young to become engaged."

II.

It is just 1:30 a. m. They are still seated in the parlor.
Suddenly from somewhere upstairs a gruff voice shouts: "Henrietta, if that fellow waits a little longer you'll be old enough to accept his proposal."

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Paducah and Good Reason for It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy. After years of backache suffering. Days of misery, nights of unrest. The distress of urinary troubles. She finds relief and cure?

No reason why any Paducah reader should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Martha Hamilton, of 610 Tennessee street, says: "If I contracted a cold which settled in my kidneys, it brought on a severe attack of inflammation of the kidneys and ever afterwards I was subject to pain across my back, although I used every precaution to prevent it. When the attacks were at their height I was prostrated and had to remain in bed some time. One day I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for just such conditions as mine. It occurred to me that they might do me some good, so I procured a box at Alvey & List's drug store. They helped me from the start. The dull aching across the small of the back finally disappeared, the pain in my muscles and legs disappeared and dizziness which accompanied it left, and since I have been only too pleased to tell friends and acquaintances about the result I obtained from using Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Phonetic Suggestion.

President Eliot, of Harvard, is no believer in the Roosevelt spelling reform. Once there was a student who was a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. This man adopted spelling reform as his particular line of work, and as commencement day drew near he went to President Eliot with a request. "You know, Mr. President," he said, "that you are proposing to make me a Ph. D. Now, I have made a specialty of spelling reform, and I always spell philosophy with an 'f.' I therefore called to ask you if you could not make my degree F. D. instead of Ph. D."

"Certainly, my dear sir," replied the president of Harvard. "In fact, if you insist, we shall make it a D. F."

Had Poor Terminal Facilities.

Melville Ingalls, the western railway magnate, was induced by a friend while spending Sunday with him to attend service at a church the pastor of which is noted for the extreme length of his sermons. As the friends were leaving at the conclusion of the sermon the Bostonian, with a touch of pride, inquired, "Dr. Blank is a most eloquent minister, is he not?" "Very eloquent," was the dry response of the railroad man "but he has poor terminal facilities."

Fifth Avenue Like a Village Street.

There is not a single street in Gotham that unbends so much on a sultry night as does that portion of Fifth avenue lying between Forty-second street and Central Park. The atmosphere of country or at least suburban ease is contributed by the comparatively large number of bareheaded women in white frocks one sees in the avenue; by the lounging attitude of the young men one sees in the open hacks, and more particularly by the comparatively few men in evening dress one sees through the windows of the smart restaurants. Every one who walks, drives or uses the avenue lounges along in a fashion more often to be seen in a village street than on the most famous thoroughfare in America, and even the soft brilliancy that streams from the curtained windows and the open doors of the all night bank does not disturb the repose of the spectacle. The final touch of relaxation is added by the caretakers of the dwelling houses along the street, the men sitting in the porches in their shirtsleeves and their women folk in old wrappers, gossiping with visitors of their own social rank and the idling policemen. It is Fifth avenue to be sure, but it might as well be a street in darkest Suburbia.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street, Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I suffered miserably for several years with female irregularities. My back ached; I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches; Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail

TURKISH REBELS LIVE IN GENEVA

Several Different Organizations Assemble There.

Mohammedans and Christians and Aspirants to Throne of Sultan in League.

YOUNG TURKEY PARTY STRONG.

Geneva, Oct. 1.—The headquarters of the several organizations hostile to the sultan of Turkey are in Geneva. They have recently pooled their issues and changed their policy. There are four general organizations, each of which has several branches and factions with considerable rivalry, jealousy and antagonism. They are the following:

First, the Wahabites are a sect of the Mohammedan church which denies the title of the sultan and the present dynasty of the Ottoman empire to the caliphate, or chieftainship of the Mohammedan church. They declare that the present sultan is an impostor; that his ancestors many centuries ago secured the caliphate by conquest in violation of all the teachings of the Koran, and they refuse to recognize his spiritual or ecclesiastical authority. The chief strength of the Wahabite movement is in Arabia, where a revolution broke out every few years against the spiritual and temporal authority of the sultan. These revolutions have been periodical for more than a century, but accomplish nothing more than the slaughter of the troops that are sent down to suppress them.

The second organization in numbers and strength is intended for the emancipation of the Turkish province of Armenia and it extends all over the world. It is particularly strong in the United States and in England, and, indeed, wherever two or more Armenians live there is a patriotic organization. Their love for their country is intense, but through the jealousy and rivalry of leaders they are broken into several factions.

The third organization is for the purpose of securing freedom of Macedonia, a Turkish province lying along the Mediterranean south of Bulgaria, the native country of Alexander the Great, Cleopatra of Egypt and various other famous characters of ancient times.

"The cry from Macedonia" to the Christian powers is one of the most pitiful appeals for help and protection that was ever uttered by human beings. No people have suffered more from persecution. The population of that heroic country has been well-nigh exterminated by the bashi-bazouks and other Turkish soldiers. At present the "Macedonia committee," which has its headquarters at Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, and for years has been leading the struggle for liberty, is resting from its labors for lack of funds, primarily, and also pending the trial of various reforms that have been introduced there.

The "Young Turkey Party" is an organization intended to overthrow the despotism and establish a liberal monarchy at Constantinople; to abolish the present regime and modernize the government. It is composed of the best people in Turkey, the educated classes, the merchants, the men of affairs and all who desire the progress and welfare of the people, for the policy of the present government is to crush out intelligence and prevent prosperity because both are dangerous to despots. For obvious reasons the organization must be secret and nobody knows who belongs to it. There are a few leaders who are identified and most of them are in Geneva.

Altogether there are about three hundred Turkish refugees in the city, including about sixty students in the university, most of them Armenians. The brother-in-law of the sultan, the husband of his oldest sister, was the recognized leader of the "Young Turkey Party" until his death in Paris a year or so ago, and I suppose his son, Sabaheddin, may be considered the nominal, if not the actual leader of the movement today. This nephew of the sultan was for a short time a student at Robert college, the Presbyterian institution at Constantinople, but was compelled to fly when his father was denounced as a traitor.

Daily Thought.
"Act always from high motives,
and you will never need to resort to sophistry or diplomacy in explaining your actions."

OF WHICH KIND ARE YOU?

Are you one of those who disagree with the policy and methods of the administration?

Are you disappointed in the kind of men the Democratic primary nominated for city offices?

Are you perfectly certain that the Republican convention will foist on the party a lot of office seeking blunderers?

Have you friends on the Democratic ticket?

Is one of your friends considering making a race on the Republican ticket?

Are you pleased with the economical, conservative, moral administration of the present general council?

Have you a kick coming?

Have you a policy to indorse?

Are you a good citizen?

Have you the breadth and depth
to appreciate sufficiently the privilege of participating in your own government?

If you have any of the foregoing symptoms, you are a man, and we have a remedy that will strike at the very root of your trouble and remove it.

Our panacea for such civic ills and doubts and aspirations is the exercise of the franchise.

There are a lot of men in Paducah, who by long neglect of the ballot have become chronic carpers, and probably could scarcely manipulate the Australian system; and these we urge to try a sample of this sovereign remedy by registering tomorrow between the hours of 6 and 9 o'clock. You have no idea how much more of a man you will feel with a registration certificate in your pocket.

Paducah has another class of suf-fragists, even more exasperating than the chronic carpers. Those of this class acknowledge party allegiance, but may be considered only as associate members. Honorary members they would prefer to be called, perhaps. They expect the workers to call on them just before registration day and again on election day. If they are not invited with sufficient warmth to participate in the registration, nomination and election,
they feel slighted and will not vote
at all. It is a pity this kind of citizen is allowed to vote.

Individuals of this class are not hoodlums, they are more trouble than hoodlums. They seem to be suffering with political liver.

Then there is the busy man, the wide bound man, he should be called, whose vision of duty and interest has narrowed down to his own petty little affairs. He reads yellow newspapers occasionally and becomes infected with the pestiferous germ
that infects the double-leaded, capitalized editorials of this sort of journalistic degeneracy long enough to rave in private occasionally against corruption in politics, but he forgets, or neglects, to register, so he never has a chance to bother the corrup-

tionists.

On these fellows, who consider themselves high above the practical politicians, we wish to impress the fact that the corrupt politician is a much better citizen than any of them.
They are simply knoekers, and impotent knoekers, at that. Such men are the shame of this country.

You thin skinned fellows, get out of the notion that an election is a function gotten up and controlled by a party organization. Look on it as a citizen's duty. Be a man and register and vote, and vote as you please.

You busy fellow, register and vote, to give Paducah the best city government, regardless of politics that you can. Elect officials, who are economical, conservative, honest, moral and progressive. Try to construct direct connection between Broadway and the city hall. It will help your business. You have found the general council giving heed
whenever you spoke earnestly.

All you party men, and men who have some special interest in this election, register.
Another point: register tomorrow.
Don't wait for the supplemental registration. You, who are in business, do not do business by putting off something you intend to do and feel that you ought to do. You do it at the first opportunity. You know why you do it then—because if you wait, you may get sick, you may be called away or a thousand and one things may happen to prevent your ever doing it.

Another reason you don't delay
your business affairs: You realize your time is valuable and that the time of other men is valuable.
You cry for business principles in politics. See that you apply business principles to your participation in politics. You are to be aligned on one side or the other. Your side will have an organization to look after the vote and the registration. If you do not register tomorrow, some politician will go to see you before the supplemental registration day. If you register he will not have to bother with you, but may devote that time and energy to looking after some other detail of the preparations for victory. Don't you see how by attending to this simple duty tomorrow, you will be helping your party to one or, perhaps, a dozen more votes?

And now, if you have read this through this far, doesn't it strike
you as humiliating that the newspapers find it necessary to lecture and admonish the voters every year to take advantage of a privilege? And yet, it is necessary, and we hazard
the guess that you have in mind
right now some other fellow to whom this rebuke applies.

If you have, invite him to register.

No matter what anyone tells you,
no matter what any newspaper may print on the subject, remember this:
Republican members of the general
council will be candidates for re-election, and they stand on the record of that department. By that you must judge them. If any opposing interest says the candidates put forward by the Republicans are nominated by any certain influence, compare the statement with the conduct of the members during their term of office, and if the statement and the facts disagree, put the statement down as a lie. This council has done nothing under cover, it has been economical, it has been conservative, it has been on the side of morality and right and what is the most significant feature of the whole situation:
not a member has hungered after re-election. They are citizens making the citizens' sacrifice of duty to the community.

A Cheerful Giver.

Bobby's father had given him a 10-cent piece and a quarter of a dollar, telling him he might put one or the other on the contribution plate, says
the Boston Post.
"Which did you give Bobby?" his father asked when the boy came home from church.
"Well, father, I thought at first I ought to put in the quarter?" said Bobby, "but then just in time I remembered 'The Lord loveth a cheerful giver,' and I knew I could give the 10-cent piece a great deal more cheerfully, so I put that in."

A Growing Subject.

It is said of a noted Virginia judge that in a pinch he always came out ahead. An incident of his childhood might go to prove this.

"Well, Benny," said his father
when the lad had been going to school about a month, "what did you learn today?"
"About the mouse, father."
"Spell mouse?" his father asked.
After a little pause, Benny answered: "Father I don't believe it was a mouse at all; it was a rat."
Lippincott's.

Our idea of a manly man is one who isn't ashamed to acknowledge his faults.

IN THE COURTS

The Kelley-Connors fight on the H.
W. Buttort consumed the greatest portion of the time in police court
this morning and was thoroughly aired. T. L. Connors is clerk on the boat and R. L., C. A. and Curtis Kelley were passengers bound for Dover, Tenn. One took a shoe off in the wrong state room and Connors objected.

The passenger replied that he would not ride on the boat if there was any other in the trade and Connors left his office, came out and it is charged, began to use brass knucks. The two brothers interfered either to separate the two or to punish Connors. The Kelleys all got injuries about the face and body and Connors was cut in the shoulder.
Judge Puryear held them all over.

Letha Johnson, colored, was found coming down from over a drug store under the influence of "coke" and stated she had been in the habit of roaming about at 2 o'clock in the morning. The judge told her he would give her a rest.
He fined her $10 and costs.

Bud Elrod and Liman Wilson, charged with throwing pepper in the eyes of Young Pruitt were granted a continuance.

Other cases: Horace Garrett, placed under bond to keep the peace towards L. L. Garrett; Corney Wallingford, disorderly conduct, $25 and costs; Coats Eggleston, trespass and using abusive language towards Mrs.
Annie Redman, continued; Florence
Greear, colored, disorderly conduct, $25 and costs and thirty days in jail; Ed Woods, Jim Doolin, petty larceny, continued; Ernest Ozment, disorderly conduct, $25 and costs
and fifty days in jail; Paducah Distilleries company, four warrants for selling liquor without a license, continued.

Suits Filed.

Mrs. Leah Johnson, administratrix of Mendol Johnson's estate, Saturday afternoon filed suit against the Mutual Reserve Life Association, of New York, for $2,000, a policy held on her husband's life.

DEATHS OF A DAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones Noble.
Mrs. Elizabeth Jones Noble, 85
years old, died at her home, 2003
Jefferson street, Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. She had been failing in health for some time. The deceased was the widow of John C. Noble and was born in Richmond, Va., in 1821, coming to Paducah in 1857.
She first lived a short time in Lexington, Ky., before coming to Paducah.
She leaves the following children:
Mrs. Emma Clark John C. Noble, R.
H. Noble, W. Y. Noble, Mrs. Maria
L. Blanton, Miss Marion Noble. The deceased was a member of the Grace Episcopal church and a church worker during her life time. The funeral was conducted from the home on Jefferson street this morning at 10 o'clock. The pallbearers were W. T.
Anderson, S. B. Caldwell Jr., T. E.
Boswell, Milton D. Cope, W. S. Dick
and Alex. Kirkland.

Lottin-Erwin.

Lottin Erwin, 25 years old, a laborer, died yesterday morning at Riverside hospital of consumption.
He had been ill for several weeks.
He leaves relatives in Memphis,
where the body will be taken at 2:40 o'clock tomorrow morning. He lived here with an aunt at 817 North Seventh street.

Isaac Farnbaker.

Isaac Farnbaker, 86 years old, a veteran merchant, died yesterday at Cairo. He once owned a clothing store here as well as at Cairo.

ATHLETICS PROVING POPULAR.

Prof. C. Shrieves, a Harvard college graduate now located in Boston, Mass., has accepted the position of master of science in the Paducah
High school. He notified Supt. C. M.
Lieb this morning by wire that he will come at once. The High school is doing little science work, and this is one of the most important branches taught in the department.

Assistant Principal Arrives.

Prof. George F. Miller, a graduate of the college at Cape Girardeau, and a man highly recommended, arrived
this morning and assumed the office of assistant principal to E. G. Payne,
of the Washington school.

Supt. Lieb Explains.

Supt. Lieb states that an erroneous impression has been created by the report that one session is beneficial.

"We have studied this matter
over carefully," Supt. Lieb said,
"and this is the result of our observations. We lose 1 3-4 hours by the one session—one-third of the day's time. Take for instance last week.
One day when it rained and we had two sessions we had 22 fewer in the afternoon than in the morning; but the next day 66 more were present in the afternoon than in the morning."

Athletic Department.

Two games have been secured by the Paducah High school football team and the first will be played Saturday at Metropolis, Ill., against the Metropolis high school team. The team will by Saturday have suits,
which were ordered some time ago.
The trip to Metropolis will be made in Prof. Lieb's gasoline launch. Several members of the faculty will accompany the team. A return date will be played at Paducah on October 20. The outlook for athletics this season is bright according to the statements of officers of the association, and efforts to organize a basket ball team will be made at once. The members are handicapped in securing a suitable place to play
basket ball.

Mr. Henry F. Smith and little daughter, Sue Devin and Sarah, left yesterday for Bowling Green where they will spend the winter with Mrs.
Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S.
Ragland.

While Americans take great pride and pleasure in being called "a strenuous people," it is perhaps not generally appreciated that a great many injure themselves physically—wreck nervous systems, invite premature wrinkles, gray hairs and infirmities by the hurry, worry way in which they live, neglecting in many instances proper care of the body and letting the real pleasures of life escape as a forfeit. Unrestrained strenuousness means neurasthenia
ultimately.

Neurasthenia is nerve-exhaustion
and that means inefficiency of the body to carry on vital functioning.
Nerve centers lag; debility ensues;
listlessness and fatigue reign. Pain may be felt in the back; fullness or pressure at the top of the head; sleep
is broken and without refreshment;
digestion notably is weak and loss of appetite constipation and distress
after eating are the rule. The headache of neurasthenia is like a band around the head; ordinarily is worse
in the morning and better towards the end of day, and is probably the most common of all headaches which come for treatment.

Now, drugs do not help neurasthenia; that is admitted; and physicians have long been accustomed to send their neurasthenics away from the cities to the mountains, seashore, abroad or anywhere to find new scenes and enjoy tranquil resoration. But that is expensive and there is a surer, quicker and better
as well as less costly way—Osteo-pathy.

Osteopathy cures neurasthenia—
which is but another name for nervousness, by stimulation to the nerves
and the circulation.

I can show you to your satisfaction in a very few minutes why osteopathy is the sane rational cure for ALL diseases of the nerves.

Come to see me at any time between the hours of 9 and 12 in the forenoon and 2 and 5 in the afternoon. Dr. G. B. Froese, 516 Broadway Phone 1407.

NEWS NOTES FROM SUNDAY PAPERS.

Louisville and Nashville passenger train, northbound, ran into an open bridge across Cumberland river at Clarksville, Tenn., at 7:40 o'clock last night. The engine, baggage and mail coaches went down, carrying with them six men, four of whom were rescued. Engineer Frank Porter, of Bowling Green, and Express Messenger Will Wood, of Clarksville, were killed. The bridge was turned over to a boat.

Politics was introduced into the session of the Methodist conference at Central City yesterday when a resolution was offered indorsing Governor Beckham. Spirited debate followed, several of the leading ministers opposing any expression by the conference in a political vote, but on a vote the resolution was adopted without change.

County conventions were held yesterday in the counties composing the Eighth congressional district to select delegates to the convention to be held in Lawrenceburg next Thursday. The returns indicate that Frank P. James, of Harrodsburg, will be nominated.

The United States army transport Sherman arrived at San Francisco
yesterday from Manila, via Honolulu.
She brought a number of returning troops and many passengers, including some of those who were on the stranded transport Sheridan.

The statement of the New York clearing-house banks for the week
shows that the banks hold $12,540,- 350 more than the legal reserve requirements. This is an increase of $1,224,425, as compared with the previous week.

The battleship Connecticut, the newest American fighting vessel and the first battleship ever built in the United States government yard, was finally placed in commission at the New York navy yard.

The American demand for gold in the British market continues. Gold bars to the value of $1,560,000 were purchased from the bank of England yesterday for shipment to the United States.

James B. Forgan, representing the newly-organized Security bank, has purchased the building and fixtures
of the defunct Milwaukee Avenue
State bank, of Chicago, for $70,000.

Edward C. Wall, formerly national Democratic committeeman of Wisconsin, has announced his engagement to Miss Martha Ahrendt, his former stenographer.

Trimble, Simpson and Nicholas counties all went "dry" voting out saloons by large majorities. In each county the election passed off quietly. Two persons were killed and probably forty injured in a rear-end collision on the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad, near Eddington, Pa.

Senator A. J. Beveridge, of Indiana, in a speech at Minneapolis last night declared that the American occupation of Cuba would this time be permanent.

The business portion of Burstow, Cal., was destroyed by fire, causing a loss of approximately $80,000.

Republican Convention.

The Republicans of the city of Paducah, Ky., are called to meet at the city hall in the city of Paducah, Ky.,
on Thursday, October 11th, 1906,
for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various city offices to be voted for at the November election.

The convention will be called to order at 2 o'clock p. m. and the vivavoce manner of voting will prevail.

FRANK BOYD,
Chairman City Committee.

RUNAWAY

ATTRACTED CROWD ON THIRD STREET SUNDAY.

Lines Break and Frank Allen's Mare Runs Away and She Is Running Yet.

There was something doing on Third street Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when an old bay mare made a record-breaking runaway. The mare started from Third street and Broadway and ran south. She took a notion at Jackson street to come back and no driver could have made a prettier turn. The lines remained free and the buggy kept in the middle of the street. At Second and Jefferson street the horse turned down to Second street and proceeded south on Second street to Clark street. She came into Third street like a thoroughbred racer and the livermen at the Clark stables threw boards in front of her. These were not sufficient.

The mare was going some, and with apparently the same speed continued north on Third street.

The owner, Frank Allen, a negro, was helpless, standing by and watching the old timer go. She turned down Jefferson street and was still going when last seen.

The exhibition filed Third street with people. Allen drives for the Paducah Furniture company, and the breaking of the lines caused the runaway.

HIGH CLASS

PACKERS

CAUGHT TODAY WITHOUT ANY CERTIFICATE.

Railroads Will Not Haul Product Between States Without an Inspection.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Beginning today the railroads will refuse to accept meat in interstate commerce which does not bear the proper stamp of inspection. Realizing at the last minute that their business may be seriously hindered by the provisions of the new meat inspection law, many small packers have appealed to Secretary Wilson and his associates within the last few days to inspect their plants and grant them the much coveted inspection stamp. But a large number of packers will be disappointed.

Between July 1 and the present time, the department of agriculture has appointed 1,000 meat inspectors, 25 per cent. of whom are veterinarians. Before July 1 there were only 783 inspectors in the employ of the government. Several hundred additional men will be required.

Before July 1 there was government inspection in 153 houses, but the number now is 400. Secretary Wilson said tonight that many of these houses have made extensive improvements, and spoke highly of the sanitary condition of many of the establishments.

Of the 153 places which had inspection under the old law, twenty-seven have been refused inspection under the new law, because of their unsanitary condition.

WILLIAM ALSO - RAN-DOLPH HEARST.

Willie runs a supplement which always beats the news; Willie runs for president, with nothing much to lose—Willie's always running, whether by request or not. Whenever there's a vacancy, it's Willie-on-the-Spot.

Frisky Willie, risky Willie, feverish for speed. Prints a rapid journal, so that he who runs may read.

Willie runs for governor quite regular of late. Willie runs the government (or tries at any rate.) Willie looks on politics with serious intent. As a sort of annex to his Comic Supplement.

Willie Willie, wanton Willie, can he, will he quit? Willie's always playing tag—and yet he's never it!

Willie ran for mayor once, but when he realized That he was defeated he was not surprised. In this land, which (Willie says) by grafters is accursed, Almost everybody had defeated Willie Hearst.

Dreaming Willie, scheming Willie, hitting of the pipe; He's one type of journalist—his journal's mostly type.

When he saw that Puddles were the topics of the hour Willie got a Muck-Rake of a hundred donkey power. Started up a geyser, shrilly shrieking all the time: "Don't you touch my mud! I've got a scoop on this here slime!"

Frantic Willie, antie Willie, always on the jump. Willie found the Muck-Rake slow, and so he bought a pump.

Brimstone is to Willie quite the mildest of emulsions—Dowie multiplied by fits and Lawsons in convulsions.

Any great calamity that comes the world to curse, Read it in the "Journal"—and you'll find that it is worse.

Bumptious Willie, gumptious Willie, running for a prize. Keeps his circulation brisk by constant exercise. —Wallace Irwin in Collier's.

Rescue of a Merchant.

A prominent merchant of Shongou, N. Y., J. A. Johnson, says: "Several years ago I contracted a cough which grew worse, until I was hardly able to move around. I coughed constantly and nothing relieved my terrible suffering until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. Before I had taken half a bottle my cough was much better and in a short time I was entirely cured. I surely believe it saved my life. It will always be my family remedy for colds." Fully guaranteed. 50c and $1.00 at all druggists. Trial bottle free.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION is worth a pound of cure. There are many poor sufferers, consumptives who are hopeless of getting well—who, if they had taken care of themselves, would now be well. A cough is the foundation of Consumption. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. Mrs. S., Great Falls, Mont., writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for years—my children never suffer with coughs." Sold by all druggists.

The Bath Comedy

By AGNES and EGERTON CASTLE

Author of "The Pride of Jennico"

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY EGERTON CASTLE

While the chaise described an irreproachable curve round the yard her quick glance had embraced every element of the scene. Sir Jasper's bulky figure, with folded arms, was leaning against the post of the inn door awaiting her approach—retribution personified—capriciously illumined by the orange rays of the landlord's lantern. Out in the moonlight, shining in his pearl gray satin and powdered head, all silver from crest to shoe buckle, like the prince of fairy lore, sat Stafford on his window ledge, as gallant a picture to a woman's eye, the widow had time to think, as one could wish to see on such a night.

"Oh," she thought, "how we are going to enjoy ourselves at last!"

And, being too true an artist to consider her mere personal convenience upon a question of effect, she resolved to defer the crisis to the ripe moment, no matter at what cost. Accordingly, even as O'Hara cried out in tones of surprise and disgust, "Thunder and turf, my darling, if there isn't now that blethering ox, Sir Jasper!" Mistress Kitty instantly covered her face with her lace and swooned away on the Irishman's breast.

Sir Jasper changed the coach door. "Blithering ox!" he bellowed. "I'll teach you, sir, what I am! I'll teach that woman, I'll—"

Here Stafford sprang lightly to the rescue. "For heaven's sake," said he, "think of our names as gentlemen! Let it be swords or pistols, Jasper, or swords and pistols, if you like, but not fatuities and collaring. Be quiet, Jasper. And you, sir," said he to O'Hara as sternly as he could for the tripping of his laughter, "having done your best to add that to a gentleman's head which shall make his hat sit awry for the remainder of his days, do you think it generous to give his condition so precise a name?"

"Oh, hush!" cried O'Hara in too deep distress to pay attention either to abuse or banter. "Give me room, gentlemen, for God's sake! Don't you see the lady has fainted?"

With infinite precaution and tenderness he emerged from the chaise with his burden, elbowing from his path on one side the curious and officious landlord, on the other the struggling husband.

"Oh, what have I done at all!" cried the distracted lover as the inertness of the weight in his arms began to fill him with apprehension for his dear. "Sure, alanna, there's nothing to be afraid of! Sure, am I not here? Och, me darling, I'm—"

But here Sir Jasper escaped from his friend's control. "I'll not stand it," cried he. "Tis more than flesh and blood can endure. Give her up to me, sir. How dare you hold her?" He fell upon O'Hara in the rear and seized him, throttling, round the neck.

"I'll dare you in a minute, ye mad devil!" yelled O'Hara in a fury no whit less violent than that of his assailant. Thus cried he, and choked.

In the scuffle they had reached the parlor.

"Oh, Jasper, Jasper, in the name of decency!" protested Stafford, vainly endeavoring to pluck the baronet from off the Irishman's back. "And you, Denis, lad, I entreat of you cease to provoke him. Zooks, my boy, remember he has some prior claim—what shall I say? Some little vested interest—"

"I'll stuff him with his own red hair!" assented Sir Jasper, foaming at the mouth, as, under a savage push from O'Hara's elbow, he fell back, staggering, into Stafford's power.

"Prior claims—vested interest, is it? Some of you will have to swallow those words before I'll be got to swallow anything here," swore Denis O'Hara, almost gayly, in the exaltation of his Celtic rage. "Sure, 'tis mad, I know ye are, leaping mad, Sir Jasper, but ought you not to be ashamed of yourself before the lady? She's quivering with the fright. Lie here, my angel," said he, vibrating from the loudest note of defiance to the tenderest cooing. "Lie here; there's not a hip-poth to frighten ye were there fifty such twopenny old crazy weather cocks crowing at you!"

So saying, he deposited his burthen tenderly in the leather winged armchair by the fireplace and turned with a buoyant step toward Sir Jasper.

"Come out," said he, "come out, sir." "Sure, leave him alone, Tom, 'tis the only way to quiet him at all. Sure, after our little game the other night, wasn't he that dovelike, poor fellow, a child might have milked him?"

The quivering form in the chair here emitted a scale of hysterical little notes that seemed wrung from her by the most irrepressible emotion. And—

"Oh, oh," exclaimed Mr. Stafford, unable, in the midst of his laughter, to retain any further grip upon his friend.

"My darling!" once more began the solicitous O'Hara, turning his head round toward the armchair. But—

"Judas!" hissed Sir Jasper, and furiously interposed his bulk between the Irishman and his indignation.

"Faith," cried Stafford, "can't you cover that head of yours somehow, O'Hara? I vow the very sight of it is still the red rag to the bull. The bull, ha!"

"Ha, ha, ha!" broke, this time uncontrolled, the merriment from the chair.

The three men were struck into silence and immobility.

Then, on a light, Mr. Stafford approached and peeped round the wing of the armchair. He looked, and seemed blushed with astonishment—looked again and made the rafters ring with his sonorous laugh till the apprehensive landlord in the passage and the trembling dame in the bar were comforted and reassured by the genial sound.

The high feminine trill of Mistress Kitty's musical mirth rang in sweetly with his.

"Oh, Kitty Bellairs, Kitty Bellairs!" gasped Mr. Stafford, shook his finger at her, felt blindly for a support, and rolled up against Sir Jasper.

The baronet straightway fell into an opportunist's chair and there remained—his legs extended with compass stiffness, his eyes staring with truly bovine bewilderment—staring at the rosy visage, the plump little figure that now emerged from the ingle nook.

"Mercy on us!" rippled the lady. "I protest, 'tis the drollest scene. Oh, Sir Jasper, Sir Jasper, see what jealousy may bring a man to!"

"Musha, it's neither head nor tail I can make of the game," said O'Hara, "but sure it's like an angel choir to hear you laugh again, me darling."

The guileless gentleman approached his mistress as he spoke and prepared to encircle her waist, but with a sudden sharpness she whisked herself from his touch.

"Pray, sir," she said, "remember how we stand to each other! If I laugh 'tis with relief to know myself safe."

"Safe?" he echoed, with sudden awful misgiving.

"Aye," said she, and spoke more tartly for the remorseful smiting of her own heart as she marked the change in his face. "You would seem to forget, sir, that you have carried me off by violence—treacherously seized me with your hired ruffians. Her voice grew ever shriller as certain rumors which her expectant ears had already caught approaching now grew quite unmistakable without, and hasty steps resounded in the passage. "Oh, Mr. O'Hara, you have cruelly used me!" cried the lady. "Oh, Sir Jasper, oh, Mr. Stafford, from what a fate has your most unexpected presence here tonight thus opportunely saved me!"

At this point she looked up and gave a scream of most intense astonishment, for there, in the doorway, stood Mr. Lord Verney, and, over his shoulder, peered the white face of Captain Spicer all-puckered up with curiosity.

CHAPTER XXII.

O'HARA drew himself up. He had grown all at once exceedingly still.

Mr. Stafford, gradually recovering from his paroxysms, had begun to bestow some intelligent interest upon the scene. There was a mist of doubt in his eyes as he gazed from the victimized but very lively lady to her crestfallen "violent abductor," and then to the gloomy countenance of the newcomer on the threshold. There seemed to be, it struck him, a prodigious deliberation in Mistress Kitty's cry and start of surprise.

"What is my pretty Bellairs up to now? Well, poor Irish Denis with all his wits is no match for her anyhow, is he?"

"I'll stuff him with his own red hair!" assented Sir Jasper, foaming at the mouth, as, under a savage push from O'Hara's elbow, he fell back, staggering, into Stafford's power.

"Prior claims—vested interest, is it? Some of you will have to swallow those words before I'll be got to swallow anything here," swore Denis O'Hara, almost gayly, in the exaltation of his Celtic rage. "Sure, 'tis mad, I know ye are, leaping mad, Sir Jasper, but ought you not to be ashamed of yourself before the lady? She's quivering with the fright. Lie here, my angel," said he, vibrating from the loudest note of defiance to the tenderest cooing. "Lie here; there's not a hip-poth to frighten ye were there fifty such twopenny old crazy weather cocks crowing at you!"

So saying, he deposited his burthen tenderly in the leather winged armchair by the fireplace and turned with a buoyant step toward Sir Jasper.

"Come out," said he, "come out, sir." "Sure, leave him alone, Tom, 'tis the only way to quiet him at all. Sure, after our little game the other night, wasn't he that dovelike, poor fellow, a child might have milked him?"

The quivering form in the chair here emitted a scale of hysterical little notes that seemed wrung from her by the most irrepressible emotion. And—

"Oh, oh," exclaimed Mr. Stafford, unable, in the midst of his laughter, to retain any further grip upon his friend.

"My darling!" once more began the solicitous O'Hara, turning his head round toward the armchair. But—

"Judas!" hissed Sir Jasper, and furiously interposed his bulk between the Irishman and his indignation.

"Faith," cried Stafford, "can't you cover that head of yours somehow, O'Hara? I vow the very sight of it is still the red rag to the bull. The bull, ha!"

"Ha, ha, ha!" broke, this time uncontrolled, the merriment from the chair.

The three men were struck into silence and immobility.

NAVAL UNIFORMS MUST BE HONORED

Officers Awake to Treatment of Blue Jackets.

People Have Overlooked Value of the Cheap Water Transportation Until Lately.

JAPANESE CANNING SARDINES.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The action of President Roosevelt in contributing $100 toward defraying the expenses of the suit instituted by Yeoman Beunze against the Newport Amusement company has caused considerable comment in naval circles here this week, and it is not unlikely that with the reconvening of congress some official action will be taken in uncovering and correcting the cause of the increasing insults to the uniformed servants of this country which have recently occurred in various localities. A retired naval officer, commenting the other day on the several suits for damages which have recently been instituted by enlisted men of the navy against the proprietors of various amusement resorts for alleged discrimination against them while in uniform, remarked that in his opinion, formed through years of service both here and abroad it is the uniform and not the man which is discriminated against. In his opinion, it is not enough for the president and the various naval officers interested in these cases to contribute privately to the prosecution of the suits, but the navy department should take up the matter officially with a view to determining just what it is that the public seems to find wrong with the nation's bluejackets, as the effect of this social ostracism upon the morals of the force is not good. Other officials at the navy department have similarly expressed themselves, and have agreed that the uniform more than the man is at fault. Though the day of the real sailor has passed, with the evolution from sailing craft to the modern battleship, the navy has clung tenaciously to the style of garb that was all very well a hundred or even fifty years ago. But, today, with the occupation of a sailor gone, he has become on a man-of-war merely a part of its intricate machinery; he is a gunner now, or an assistant in gunnery, a worker among and a handler of metals and machinery and mechanical and automatic appliances. His former occupation is but a mere memory, and it is simply furthering a fiction to stick to the old-style apparel. The men, too, are thoroughly tired of it. Nearly every enlisted man who has come from anywhere but the slums keeps a suit of civilian clothes on hand and dons it whenever he gets shore leave for any length of time, not desiring to appear conspicuous and to suffer the discrimination which must come to him when he appears in his sailor's rig. It is just this feature, so naval officers say, which has to do with the great desertion problem. A young man will enlist in the navy filled with salt water enthusiasm, but when he goes ashore and finds himself barred from the places and associations which before enlistment were opened to him without anyone looking askance at his clothes, he is naturally sensitive, and the uniform which he wears instead of being a garb of honor becomes one of distaste—so he deserts. With this belief gaining new supporters every day in naval and civil circles, it cannot be long before congress will take a hand and authorize new and more satisfactory uniforms for the most patriotic organization of our whole great country today—the navy.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities. In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering or chronic stages of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of facts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

ers about the man who wandered over the globe in vain search of a four-leaf clover and who on returning to his home again, a broken-down and decrepit old man, threw himself down in his front yard and unwittingly pillowed his head on a whole bed of four-leaf clovers. The moral to be gleaned from this little story is applicable today to the American people. Ever seeking the almighty dollar, penetrating to the farthest corners of the globe in a mad desire to monopolize the trade of every country, they have been utterly oblivious to the dollars to be saved right here at home. This country is essentially a commercial nation, and its development has been along the lines of least resistance or effort. It has had the raw material or the finished product to export and has exported it. In the quickest way possible, when the railroads came into prominence with the east and west colonization movement in this country, our people seized on them as the quickest and most reliable means of "commodity transportation" and let water transportation, like a broken toy, slip to the floor, useless and forgotten. Although the railroad rates have gradually decreased as the roads were extended and improvements introduced they are still much higher than water rates of old, and of late the people aroused to action by the ever-increasing demands of the railroads, have come to realize that our rivers afford what is indeed the cheapest means of transportation, and, following the lead of the national rivers and harbors congress and kindred organizations, they have begun a concerted action looking toward a national organization of the country's transportation system and the rehabilitation of the long-neglected rivers and harbors of the country. So long have these been neglected that nothing short of the most liberal treatment on the part of the nation will be effective in benefiting the whole country, and it is the whole country that needs benefiting. Therefore, the rivers and harbors congress, backed and sanctioned most heartily in its efforts by senators and congressmen of both parties and prominent public and professional men throughout the country, has undertaken to bring home to the people of the United States the necessity of their asking of congress just what they want in the way of improvements to our national waterways. In this way, and this way only, can the desired ends be secured—nothing short of a concerted, systematic demand on the part of the whole people.

Japanese Sardines.

Japan has invaded a new field and one which, while it does not come as a rival to home industries, does effect the people of the United States in that this country offers the best market of this new production—canned sardines. Of course, canned sardines are not a new product, but canned sardines from Japan are. This tiny member of the finny tribe abounds in great numbers in Japanese waters, and heretofore the surplus of the always heavy catch after the demands of home consumption have been met has been utilized as fertilizer on Japan's farms. Of late, however, numerous canning establishments have been started at various places with a view of competing with the Mediterranean product in far eastern and American markets, at least. As far as taste and quality go, it is said Japan's product is somewhat better than the European, and our sardine-eating citizens may soon expect to find their sardine cans covered with Japanese hieroglyphics instead of the more familiar and easily deciphered Italian labels.

SEPTEMBER BUSY MONTH IN PADUCAH

Business Rushing, Health Was Good and People Active.

Wholesale, Retail, Manufacturing and Transportation Lines Are Pushing Ahead.

PROSPECTS ARE EXCELLENT.

September has been a busy month in all lines of trade. The local wholesale houses report the best business they have ever done in September, and manufacturers have bookings ahead for several months' orders. General conditions are in a healthy condition and collections are good. Railroads and steamboats have shown nice increases in traffic, passenger and freight, and the retailers report an early opening of the fall season. October promises much and finds everyone keen for a busy season.

Police Department Report.
The police report for September shows a total of 142 arrests as follows: Breach of the peace, 26; disorderly conduct, 48; drunks, 15; chicken stealing, robbery, trespass, 1 each; cruelty to animals and grand larceny, 3 each; rape, 2; immorality, 6; malicious cutting, 7; malicious shooting, 1; petty larceny, 6; malicious assault, 4; obtaining money by false pretenses, 3; attempt at arson, 2; concealed weapons, 5; receiving stolen property, 3; murder, house-breaking, flourishing pistol, selling liquor without a license, selling cocaine contrary to law, 1 each.

Railroad Reports.
The freight business in and out of Paducah is reported for September as being heavy. The Illinois Central kept all the yard engines at work constantly, but the business towards the latter part of the month fell off a little. The baggage business was reported comparatively light and the ticket business moderate. This is due to the fact that not so many traveling men are out and the travel to the springs has also fallen off greatly.

Building Permits.
There was a slump in building in September, due to the approach of cold weather, but the report compares favorably with September last year. Twenty-one permits were issued, the prices ranging from $30 to $1,500.

Burial Permits.
City Clerk Henry Bailey issued 19 burial permits in September, 12 white and 7 colored.

Schools Doing Well.
The first month's report of the city schools will be interesting because it will show the biggest enrollment in the history of the city. The attendance will not show up so well on account of the inclement weather.

Postoffice Report.
The report of the postoffice department has not been compiled but will show the best month of the year for receipts. This is due to the fact that Barnum & Bailey employees were paid off and sent money home from here.

The Department Report.
The fire department experienced a quiet month making but 11 runs. Of these one was a heavy loss, being the property of the McKinnle Veneer and Lumber company, estimated at $2,000. No machinery was lost.

Riverside Hospital.
The report of Riverside hospital for the month of September is as follows: Patients August 31, 20; admitted, city, 13; Private, 21; discharged, city, 7; private, 12. Patients September 30, 16.

There was one birth and three deaths at Riverside hospital in September.

Marriage Licenses Issued.
September was not a lively month in marriages, the books showing only 27 licenses, 28 white and 9 black.

City Finances.
September is a dull month. Most of the city taxes are in before that, but by dint of much urging Treasurer Dorian and Auditor Kirkland succeeded in coaxing in $5,689.62.

The report of city finances for September is:
On hand August 30.....$73,985.82
Collections ..... 5,689.62
Disbursements ..... 27,206.96
Balance September 30..... 52,468.48

Coroner's Report.
During September Coroner Frank Baker held 10 inquests.

I. C. Hospital.
The report of the Illinois Central hospital for the month of September is as follows. Patients August 31, 36; admitted, 122; discharged, 115; deaths, 1. Patients September 30, 43.

Stamp Deputy's Report.
Stamp Deputy L. L. Bebout reports that he collected $9,111.73 and issued stamps for 809 barrels of liquor.

SUNSHINE

FIRST IN WEEK GREETED PADUCAHANS TODAY.

Overcoats, Wraps and Gaiters Make Sunday Notable—Many People on the Streets.

If all the people of Paducah were to unite in a hymn, the choice probably would fall on "Let the Blessed Sunshine In."

This morning for the first time in six days the great orb of day sent his shafts in the bedrooms of the late sleepers and greeted the eyes of those who were up betimes.

While the gulf cities sustained the great loss from the tropical storm and the northwest recorded the first frost, Paducah took as her portion a good drenching. For a week there was nothing but rain.

Yesterday registered a drop in the temperature and for the first time since early in the spring the reflections of grate fires could be seen in the windows of many homes. Overcoats and wraps of last season's styles were seen on the street. No one has yet thought of purchasing a new one, and a large proportion of those seen yesterday were wrinkled just as they had laid in the bottom of a trunk all summer. Others were shivering, because pawn tickets will not keep one warm.

An unusual number of people were seen on horseback yesterday—the horse show fever—buggy riding also was popular, after the week of confinement, and the pedestrians who all walked down Broadway were greeted by the first sight of the beautiful display windows of the merchants, ready for the big event of the week. It seems that even nature intends to make this week notable in Paducah.

Proclamation to the Citizens of Paducah.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 1, 1906.
On account of the Immigration convention, which meets in this city on October 4th and 5th, and to aid and encourage this, and also the promoters of the horse show at this time, I would respectfully request that all business houses and private residences, as far as possible, will decorate in honor of the occasion, and will aid in every way possible to make both of these institutions a success to Paducah and her citizens, and give visitors to this city a genuine Kentucky welcome. Respectfully,
D. A. YEISER,
Mayor, city of Paducah, Ky.

$4.75 Nashville and Return $4.75. Tennessee State Fair.

Account of the above occasion the N. C. and St. L. will sell tickets from Paducah to Nashville and return on October 6 and October 8 to 13 inclusive, for $4.75, good returning October 15.

MAHUNDRO CAUGHT NEAR INGLESIDE

Charged With Eloping With His Sister-in-Law.

Fifteen-Year-Old Lovie Bradford Is Said to Be in Tennessee.

THE PRISONER KEEPS SILENCE

William Mahundro, who, it is claimed deserted his wife and eloped with Lovie Bradford, his 15-year-old sister-in-law, is under arrest and safely lodged in jail on a grave charge. Detective Will Baker after a hard week's work succeeded in catching the fugitives at Ingleside yesterday afternoon. Mahundro refuses to talk to detective or reporter about the affair.

"Mahundro is alleged to have run away with Lovie Bradford only a few days after he came here with his wife and the girl from Woodville to reside," Detective Baker said. "He resided for a while on a farm near Woodville and came to Paducah to work. Instead of seeking employment he is alleged to have run away with the girl and his wife sought the services of the police."

"Yesterday I located Mahundro near Ingleside, and, taking the train to Cairo, drove overland and caught him driving towards Tennessee. He was going to Nashville. I learned that the girl was in Henry county, Tenn., and it is presumed he was going there to meet her."

"The prisoner would not talk. When I caught him it was near Ingleside and we had a long drive back, but he would not 'pump' at all. He admitted leaving home with the girl."

Detective Baker said that he has information about them. The girl will have to be caught before the defendant can be tried.

What Did She Mean?
A philanthropic person heard of a negro family that was reported in destitute circumstances and, calling at their home, he found the report true.

The family consisted of mother, a son nearing manhood's estate and two young children. The benevolent old gentleman, after hearing the mother's story gave her oldest son $1 to get a chicken for the Thanksgiving dinner, and took his departure.

No sooner was he gone than the negroess said to her son: "Sambo, you gib me dat dollah and go get dat chicken in de natchral way."—Harper's magazine.

What the French Drink.

The east of France is somewhat influenced by the neighborhood of Germany. The beverage is chiefly beer, and the cooking has a decided Teutonic bias. The people show the propensities to heaviness and slowness which characterize the nation beyond the Rhine. Western France produces little wine, and still less beer. The inhabitants generally quench their thirst with cider. They are as ruddy in complexion as their native apples.—Success Magazine.

The Motor Horn.

The suggestion made the other day that the motorist, in the interest of the public safety, should be deprived of his horn, and something in it of the quality of paradox, but it is evident that it also had in it something of the quality of truth. In some places hornblowing by motorists is a nuisance, and speaking of it the secretary of the Automobile club has just said to an interviewer: "Let me tell you emphatically that the less hornblowing there is the more considerate and careful will be the driving." He also says that there is far too much blowing of motor horns, and declares himself ready to undertake a motor journey from the East End of London to the West and not blow the horn once. "Of course," he adds, "I should have to slow up, but that really does not matter." In simple fact, the part played by the horn on many motor cars is to transfer all obligation to take care from the driver to the other person. A variant of a well-known formula would suit his case—"I blow the horn; you do the rest."—Dundee Advertiser.

ADVERTISING is but a part of the selling plan of any well established business, but by no means all of it. Its to draw a customer and make a sale, then style, fit and quality must prove our claim to the consumer's continued patronage. We back up the quality of the Anvil Brand School Shoes—style and fit show themselves—QUALITY is proven conclusively by a test. Eight years we've been selling the Anvil Brand shoes for boys, youths, misses and children. Thousands of pairs have given entire satisfaction, and this chapter is especially directed to you who have never tried them.
